The highest annual death-rates from measles were 1·6 in Birmingham, and 1·8 in Nottingham and in Bolton; from scarlet fever, 1·6 in Sheffield, 1·7 in Huddersfield, and 1·8 in Blackburn; and from whooping-cough, 1·8 in Salford and in Leicester, 2·2 in Norwich, and 2·6 in Wolverhampton. Small-pox caused 27 deaths in Sheffield, 2 in Leeds, and one in Bristol, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-four other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2845 BIRTHS and 1868 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 241, and the deaths 95, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 18·6 and 23·3 in the two preceding weeks, declined again last week to 22·8.

The 1868 deaths included 25 from measles, 37 from scarlet fever, 28 from diphtheria, 120 from whooping-cough, one from typhus, 28 from enteric fever,

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

2 from ill-defined forms of continued fever, 12 from diarrhoea and dysentery, and not one from small-pox or cholera; thus 253 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 13 above the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered in London, the corrected average being 16. The 25 deaths from measles, including 5 in Islington sanitary area, were 38 below the average. The 37 fatal cases of scarlet fever exceeded the corrected average by 2; 4 belonged to Bethnal Green, 3 to Lambeth, and 5 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The 28 deaths from diphtheria exceeded the numbers in recent weeks, and were 12 above the corrected average; 5 belonged to Camberwell sanitary area. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had been 104 and 130 in the two previous weeks, declined again last week to 120, but were 45 above the average; 42 belonged to the East, 32 to the South, and 30 to the North groups of sanitary areas. The 28 deaths referred to enteric fever showed a further increase upon recent weekly numbers, and were 9 above the corrected average.

DEATHS BELONGING to the SEVERAL SANITARY AREAS of REGISTRATION LONDON registered in the 13 WEEKS ENDING on 31ST DECEMBER, 1887.

ANALYSIS OF METROPOLITAN WATER SUPPLY DURING DECEMBER.

Grove House, Pembroke Square, W.,
6th January, 1888.

SIR, I HAVE to report to you in the following Table the results of the chemical analyses of the waters supplied to the inner, and portions of the outer, circle of the Metropolis during the month of December.

I append, also, the results obtained in the analyses of the waters supplied to Birmingham and Glasgow by their respective Corporations. These analyses were made by Dr. Hill of Birmingham and Dr. Mills of Glasgow.

Taking the average amount of organic impurity contained in a given volume of the Kent Company's water during the nine years ending December 1876 as unity, the proportional amount contained in an equal volume of water supplied by each of the Metropolitan Water Companies and by the Tottenham Local Board of Health, was:—Kent 0·8, Colne Valley 0·9, New River 1·2, Tottenham 1·4, East London 2·8, Lambeth 3·0, Grand Junction 3·1, West Middlesex 3·1, Southwark 3·2, Chelsea 3·5.

The Thames water sent out by the Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, and Lambeth Companies contained an appreciably smaller average proportion of organic matter than in the previous month, the actual amount present in each sample being very moderate indeed for this season of the year. All the samples were clear and bright.

The water derived principally from the river Lea, and distributed by the New River Company contained, as for many months past, only a very small proportion of organic matter; the East London Company's water also contained less organic matter than any of the Thames waters. Both waters were clear and bright on delivery.

The deep-well water of the Kent and Colne Valley Companies exhibited its usual purity, and the Colne Valley Company, by softening their supply with lime, thereby rendered it also of excellent quality for washing and all other domestic purposes.

The sample of the Tottenham supply, although containing only a very small quantity of organic matter was slightly turbid, and the suspended matter exhibited moving organisms under the microscope.

Seen through a stratum two feet deep, the waters presented the following appearances:—Kent, and Colne Valley, clear and colourless; New River, clear and nearly colourless; Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, Lambeth, and East London, clear and pale yellow; Tottenham, slightly turbid and nearly colourless.

Dr. Hill, F.I.C., the Medical Officer of Health for Birmingham, reports of the water supplied to that town "that the freedom from organic impurity was well maintained."

Dr. Mills, F.R.S., of Anderson's College, Glasgow, reports that the water supplied to that city from Loch Katrine was "light brown in colour and contained a little suspended matter."

I am, &c.

The Registrar General, &c. &c.

E. FRANKLAND.

† Analysed by Dr. E. J. Mills, F.R.S., of Anderson's College, Glasgow.

The numbers in columns 4–11 all relate to 100,000 parts of the waters. The Table is to be read thus:—the Chelsea Company's water, collected on the 14th December at the Horseguards cab-rank, had a temperature of 6°·8 C.; 100,000 lbs. of it contained 29·80 lbs. of solid matter; the organic substances, constituting a portion of this matter, contained ·180 lb. of carbon and ·024 lb. of nitrogen. The above quantity of water also contained no ammonia, and ·276 lb. of nitrogen in the form of nitrates and nitrites, whilst the total amount of combined nitrogen in every form was ·300 lb. The above weight of water also contained 2·1 lb. of chlorine; and 20·0 lbs. of carbonate of lime, or an equivalent quantity of other hardening or soap-destroying ingredients.

The numbers in the analytical Table can be converted into grains per imperial gallon by multiplying them by 7, and then moving the decimal point one place to the left. The same operation transforms the hardness in the Table into degrees of hardness on Clark's scale.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the averages weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9·043 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ These cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated," which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are:—P, positive; N, negative; W, weak; M, moderate; S, strong; and Agg, aggregate.

The numbers in column 29 derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the April day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 29.32 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.15 in. on 9th. A.M. on the 2nd.; increased to 29.30 in. by 9h. P.M. on the 3rd.; decreased to 29.51 in. on 9th. A.M. on the 5th.; and increased to 30.26 in. by the end of the week.

The highest annual death-rates from measles, measured by last week's mortality, were 1·1 in Nottingham and in Derby, and 1·6 in Birmingham; from scarlet fever, 1·2 in Bristol, 1·3 in Wolverhampton, 1·6 in Birkenhead, and 1·7 in Norwich; from whooping-cough, 1·0 in Preston, 1·1 in Derby, 1·4 in Manchester, 1·7 in Norwich, 1·8 in Leicester, and 1·9 in Wolverhampton and in London; and from "fever," 1·0 in Preston. The 33 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 16 in London, 4 in Liverpool, 3 in Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and 2 in Oldham. Small-pox caused 27 deaths in Sheffield, 4 in Leeds, one in London, and one in Bristol, but not one in any of the twenty-four other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2556 BIRTHS and 1940 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 361 below, whereas the deaths exceeded by 45, the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 23·3 and 22·8 in the two preceding weeks, rose last week to 23·6. During the thirteen weeks of last quarter the death-rate averaged 20·0 per 1000, and was 1·2 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1877-86.

The 1940 deaths included 1 from small-pox, 25 from measles, 25 from scarlet fever, 16 from diphtheria, 152 from whooping-cough, 22 from enteric fever, 1 from an ill-defined form of continued fever, 11 from diarrhoea and dysentery, and not one from typhus or cholera; thus, 253 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 14 above the corrected average weekly number.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

One death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 17; the death occurred in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospital at Homerton, and was of an adult female admitted from Mile End Old Town sanitary area. There were 6 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last (3 having been admitted during the week), and not one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The death of an infant, aged one year, was attributed to chicken-pox. The deaths from measles, which had been 30, 28, and 25 in the three preceding weeks, were again 25 last week, and were 33 below the corrected average. The 25 fatal cases of scarlet fever (of which 11 occurred in hospitals) showed a further considerable decline from the numbers returned in recent weeks, and were 18 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Chelsea, 2 to Hackney, 2 to Bethnal Green, 3 to Lambeth, and 3 to Camberwell sanitary areas. At the end of last week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 1792 scarlet fever patients (there were also 116 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the five preceding weeks from 2557 to 1959; 148 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during last week, against 120 and 147 in the two preceding weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had been 22 and 28 in the two previous weeks, declined last week to 16, but exceeded the corrected average by one; 2 belonged to Paddington and 2 to Hackney sanitary areas. The 152 fatal cases of whooping-cough showed a further marked increase upon recent weekly numbers, and exceeded the corrected average by 80; 20 belonged to Islington, 15 to Shoreditch, 15 to Bethnal Green, 9 to Mile End Old Town, and 9 to Poplar sanitary areas. The annual death-rate from whooping-cough last week, which was 1·9 per 1000 in the whole of London, was no less than 4·3 in the Eastern group of sanitary areas. The 11 deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery were 2 below the corrected average.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 15, 19, and 28 in the three preceding weeks, were last week 22, and exceeded the corrected average by 6; 2 belonged to Hammersmith, 3 to Pancras, 3 to Islington, 2 to Poplar, 2 to Lambeth, and 2 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The death of a male, aged 70 years, in St. Thomas' Hospital, was indefinitely referred to "fever, chronic meningitis." The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 155 cases of enteric fever, and 3 of typhus, on Saturday last; 19 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 442 and 502 in the two preceding weeks, further rose last week to 579, and exceeded the corrected average by 44.

Different forms of violence caused 69 deaths; 56 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 21 from fractures and contusions, 7 from burns and scalds, 6 from drowning, 3 from poison, and 16 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 21 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—3 by accidents from vehicles in the streets, 2 by accidents on railways, 3 by falling down stairs, 10 by fall in walking or otherwise, 1 by a blow from a swing door, 1 by a blow from a gas bracket, and 1 from a fracture the cause of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 21 cases. Eleven cases of suicide were registered.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3312 births and 2458 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 31·3 and 23·2 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 37 deaths from whooping-cough, 15 from diphtheria, 10 from measles, and 6 from "fever," were registered. The deaths from whooping-cough included 17 in West Ham district, and 6 in Tottenham sub-district. Of the 15 fatal cases of diphtheria, 4 occurred in Walthamstow, 3 in West Ham, 3 in Edmonton, and 3 in Enfield sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 30·45 in.; the lowest reading was 30·26 in. at the beginning of the week, and the highest 30·53 in. on Tuesday morning. The mean temperature of the air was 38°·1, and 0°·1 above the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean showed an excess on Sunday and Monday, whereas it was below the average on each of the other days of the week. The general direction of the wind was S.W. and E., and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 6·3 miles per hour, which was 7·0 miles below the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on Thursday, to the amount of 0·02 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 0·0 hours, against 0·5 of an hour at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.041 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ These cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1888 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean readings of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the wet bulb thermometer, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metric Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1888, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market, at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are: -P. positive; N. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. variable.

The numbers in column 29, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer increased from 30.25 in. at the beginning of the week to 30.53 in. by 9h. A.M. on the 10th; decreased to 30.45 in. by 3h. P.M. on the 12th; increased to 30.50 in. by noon on the 13th; decreased to 30.34 in. by 8h. P.M. on the 14th; and was 30.36 in. at the end of the week.

The highest annual death-rates from measles, measured by last week's mortality, were 1·3 in Plymouth and in Wolverhampton, 1·6 in Nottingham, 1·8 in Blackburn, 2·2 in Derby, and 2·3 in Bolton; from scarlet fever, 1·1 in Derby, 1·3 in Blackburn, 1·4 in Bolton and in Cardiff, 2·0 in Preston, and 2·1 in Birkenhead; and from whooping-cough, 1·6 in Salford, 1·7 in London, 1·9 in Wolverhampton, and 2·1 in Leicester. The 36 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 22 in London, 4 in Nottingham, 3 in Liverpool, 2 in Oldham, and 2 in Newcastle-upon-Tyne. Small-pox caused 25 deaths in Sheffield, 3 in Bristol, and 2 in Nottingham, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-four other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2688 BIRTHS and 2000 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 184 below, whereas the deaths exceeded by 36, the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 22·8 and 23·6 in the two preceding weeks, further rose last week to 24·4. During the first three weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 23·6, and was 0·2 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

The 2000 deaths included 14 from measles, 42 from scarlet fever, 22 from diphtheria, 138 from whooping-cough, 26 from enteric fever, 1 from an ill-defined form of continued fever, 15 from diarrhoea and dysentery, and not one from small-pox, typhus or cholera; thus, 258 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 25 above the corrected average weekly number.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 19. There were only 5 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last, and not one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The deaths of two children, aged 4 months and 2 months, were attributed to chicken-pox. The deaths from measles, which had been 25 in each of the two preceding weeks, declined last week to 14, and were 36 below the corrected average. The fatal cases of scarlet fever rose to 42 (of which 23 occurred in hospitals) from 37 and 25 in the two previous weeks, and were 3 above the corrected average; 3 belonged to Kensington, 3 to Hackney, 5 to Bethnal Green, 3 to Newington, 5 to Wandsworth, and 4 to Camberwell sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 1729 scarlet fever patients (there were also 108 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the seven preceding weeks from 2602 to 1792; 122 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during last week, against 120, 147, and 148 in the three preceding weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had been 28 and 16 in the two previous weeks, rose again last week to 22, and exceeded the corrected average by 8; 2 belonged to Paddington, 2 to Bermondsey, 3 to Lambeth, and 2 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had been 130, 120, and 152 in the three preceding weeks, were last week 138, and exceeded the corrected average by 59; 18 belonged to Islington, 7 to Clerkenwell, 10 to Shoreditch, 16 to Bethnal Green, 15 to Mile End Old Town, 10 to Wandsworth, and 6 to Lewisham sanitary areas. The mortality from this disease showed an increase in the Northern and Central, whereas it had declined in the Western, Eastern, and Southern groups of sanitary areas. The 15 deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery exceeded the corrected average by 2.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 28 and 22 in the two preceding weeks, rose again last week to 26, and exceeded the corrected average by 10; 3 belonged to Islington, 2 to Hackney, 3 to Mile End Old Town, 4 to Poplar, 3 to Wandsworth, and 2 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The death of a male, aged 45 years, in Camberwell, was indefinitely referred to "pneumonia, fever." The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 152 cases of enteric fever, and 3 of typhus, on Saturday last; 15 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had increased in the four preceding weeks from 357 to 579, further rose last week to 591, and exceeded the corrected average by 29.

Different forms of violence caused 78 deaths; 64 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 16 from fractures and contusions, 14 from burns and scalds, 8 from drowning, 2 from poison, and 17 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 16 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—1 by accident from vehicle in street, 1 by kick of horse, 3 by accidents on railways, 3 by falling into ship's hold, 1 by falling down stairs, 1 by falling through hole in floor, 3 by fall in walking or otherwise, 1 by injury from machinery, 1 by blow against archway of stables, and 1 by fracture, the cause of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 16 cases except the last. Ten cases of suicide were registered, exceeding the average by 4.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3500 births and 2511 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 33·0 and 23·7 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 39 deaths from whooping-cough, 11 from diphtheria, and 8 from measles, were registered. The deaths from whooping-cough included 18 in West Ham district and 9 in Tottenham sub-district. Of the 11 fatal cases of diphtheria, 4 occurred in Enfield, 3 in West Ham, and 2 in Walthamstow sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·27 in.; the highest reading was 30·48 in. on Wednesday evening, and the lowest 29·68 in. at the end of the week. The mean temperature of the air was 34°·7, and 4°·1 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was considerably below the average on each day of the week, except Saturday, when it showed a considerable excess. The general direction of the wind was Easterly until Thursday afternoon after which it was South-westerly, the horizontal movement of the air averaging 12·7 miles per hour, which was 1·1 miles below the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on Saturday, to the amount of 0·21 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 2·5 hours, against 12·3 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.043 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ These cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated," which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1868, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are: - P, positive; N, negative; w, weak; m, moderate; s, strong; and v, variable.

The numbers in column 29, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 30.35 in. at the beginning of the week to 30.27 in. by 9h. A.M. on the 16th; increased to 30.48 in. by 9h. P.M. on the 18th; and decreased to 29.83 in. by the end of the week.

The highest annual death-rates from scarlet fever, measured by last week's mortality, were 1·1 in Norwich and 1·3 in Blackburn; from measles, 1·3 in Blackburn, and 1·8 in Bolton and in Nottingham; from whooping-cough, 1·6 in Birkenhead, 2·0 in London, 2·2 in Derby, and 2·6 in Wolverhampton; and from "fever," 1·3 in Brighton, and 1·4 in Nottingham. The 46 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 29 in London, 2 in Bristol, 2 in Birmingham, 3 in Manchester, 2 in Oldham, and 3 in Preston. Small-pox caused 37 deaths in Sheffield, one in Bristol, and one in Leeds, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-four other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2715 BIRTHS and 1816 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 148, and the deaths 177, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 22·8, 23·6, and 24·4 in the three preceding weeks, declined last week to 22·1. During the first four weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 23·2 per 1000, and was 0·8 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

The 1816 deaths included 16 from measles, 29 from scarlet fever, 29 from diphtheria, 168 from whooping-cough, 13 from enteric fever, 1 from an undefined

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last inter-censal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

form of continued fever, 11 from diarrhoea and dysentery, and not one from small-pox, typhus or cholera; thus, 267 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 19 above the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 20. There were only 9 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last, and not one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The deaths from measles, which had been 25 and 14 in the preceding two weeks, were last week 16, and 24 below the corrected average; 6 belonged to Islington sanitary area, of which 4 occurred in the workhouse infirmary. The fatal cases of scarlet fever, which had been 37, 25, and 42 in the preceding three weeks, declined again last week to 29, and were 9 below the corrected average; 6 belonged to Mile End Old Town, 2 to Chelsea, 2 to Clerkenwell, 2 to Bethnal Green, 2 to Poplar, and 2 to Bermondsey sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 1641 scarlet fever patients (there were also 100 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the eight preceding weeks from 2602 to 1729; 135 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during last week, against 147, 148, and 122 in the three preceding weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had been 16 and 22 in the two previous weeks, further rose last week to 29, and exceeded the corrected average by 14; 5 belonged to Paddington, 3 to Kensington, 2 to Westminster, and 2 to Stepney (at 1, Lockside, Limehouse,) sanitary areas. The 168 fatal cases of whooping-cough showed a further increase upon the high numbers returned in recent weeks, and exceeded the corrected average by 67; 9 belonged to Hammersmith, 18 to Islington, 14 to Bethnal Green, 12 to Poplar, 14 to Wandsworth, and 15 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The deaths from this disease showed the largest increase in the Western and Southern groups of sanitary areas. The 11 deaths attributed to diarrhoea and dysentery were 4 below the corrected average.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 28, 22, and 26 in the three previous weeks, declined last week to 13, and were 3 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to St. James Westminster, 2 to Pancras, and 2 to Islington sanitary areas. The death of a child, aged 3 years, in Chelsea sanitary area, was indefinitely referred to "some contagious fever." The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 156 cases of enteric fever, and 3 of typhus, on Saturday last; 15 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had increased in the five preceding weeks from 357 to 591, declined last week to 534, and were 39 below the corrected weekly average.

Different forms of violence caused 59 deaths; 55 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 18 from fractures and contusions, 15 from burns and scalds (including 4 caused by the recent fire in the City), 4 from drowning, and 14 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 18 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus returned:—1 by accident from van in street, 1 by accident on railway, 2 by falling in street, 1 by falling into area, 1 by falling from window, 1 by falling in room, 2 by falling from bed, 1 by falling into well of lift, 6 by falling down stairs, 1 by injury from a kick, and 1 by fall, the nature of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these cases, except in that of a child aged 3 years who fell down stairs in Eltham. Three cases of suicide were registered.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3526 births and 2298 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 33·3 and 21·7 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 74 deaths from whooping-cough, and 15 from diphtheria, were registered. Of the deaths from whooping-cough, 30 occurred in the district of West Ham, and 28 in the district of Tottenham; 5 fatal cases of diphtheria occurred in Walthamstow, 2 in Enfield, and 2 in Croydon sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·98 in.; the highest reading was 30·28 in. at noon on Tuesday, and the lowest 29·66 in. on Thursday morning. The mean temperature of the air was 40°·7, and 0°·9 above the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean showed an excess on each of the first five days of the week, whereas it was below the average on Friday and Saturday. The general direction of the wind was North-westerly, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 18·4 miles per hour, which was 4·4 miles above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on two days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·10 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 3·0 hours, against 17·6 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.044 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence as to inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The 42 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 29 in London, 3 in Birmingham, and 3 in Manchester. Small-pox caused 17 deaths in Sheffield, one in Bristol, and one in Leeds, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-four other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2688 BIRTHS and 1894 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 278, and the deaths 172, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 24·4 and 22·1 in the two preceding weeks, was last week 23·1. During the first five weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 23·2 per 1000, and was 1·1 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

The 1894 deaths included 18 from measles, 38 from scarlet fever, 29 from diphtheria, 177 from whooping-cough, 26 from enteric fever, 3 from ill-defined forms of continued fever, 15 from diarrhoea and dysentery, and not one from small-pox, typhus, or cholera; thus, 306 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 58 above the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 21. There were only 7 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last, and not one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The deaths of two children, aged 16 and 19 months, were attributed to chicken-pox, the disease in one case being certified as "ulcerating varicella." The fatal cases of measles, which had been 25, 14, and 16 in the three preceding weeks, were last week 18, and 20 below the corrected average; 6 more deaths from this cause were registered in the Islington Workhouse Infirmary. The 38 deaths from scarlet fever showed an increase of 9 upon the number in the previous week, and exceeded the corrected average by 4; 3 belonged to Pancras, 2 to Islington, 2 to St. Giles, 3 to Bethnal Green, 3 to Newington, 3 to Lambeth, 7 to Wandsworth, and 5 to Camberwell sanitary areas. Of the 7 fatal cases of scarlet fever belonging to Wandsworth sanitary area, 5 occurred in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, including 3 admitted from Gaskell Street, Larkhall Lane, and 2 from Stewart's Road. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 1558 scarlet fever patients (there were also 92 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the nine preceding weeks from 2602 to 1640; 96 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during last week, against 148, 122, and 133 in the three preceding weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had been 16, 22, and 29 in the three preceding weeks, were again 29 last week, and exceeded the corrected average by 12; 4 belonged to Paddington, 3 to Marylebone, 2 to St. Giles, 4 to Lambeth, and 2 to Wandsworth sanitary areas. The 177 fatal cases of whooping-cough showed a further increase upon the high numbers returned in recent weeks, and exceeded the corrected average by 73; 18 belonged to Islington, 6 to Clerkenwell, 5 to St. Luke's, 10 to Shoreditch, 18 to Bethnal Green, and 12 to Wandsworth sanitary areas. The 15 deaths attributed to diarrhoea and dysentery corresponded with the corrected average.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had declined in the four preceding weeks from 28 to 13, rose again last week to 26, and exceeded the corrected average by 12; 2 belonged to Paddington, 3 to Pancras, 2 to Islington, 3 to Bermondsey, 3 to Wandsworth, 3 to Camberwell, and 2 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 156 cases of enteric fever, and 2 of typhus, on Saturday last; 14 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 591 and 534 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 516, and were 125 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 55 deaths; 48 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 19 from fractures and contusions, 8 from burns and scalds, 1 from drowning, 2 from poison, and 14 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 19 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus returned:—8 by accidents from vehicles in the street, 2 by accidents on railway, 1 by fall down stairs, 1 by fall from chair, 1 by fall upon fender, 1 by fall from table, 1 by fall on barge, 1 by fall, the nature of which was not stated, 1 by blow from swing-boat, 1 by fall of bag of seed, and 1 by injury from machinery. An inquest was held in each of these 19 cases. Five cases of suicide were registered.

GREATHER LONDON.

In Greater London 3488 births and 2370 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 32·9 and 22·4 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 41 fatal cases of whooping-cough, and 10 of diphtheria, were registered. The deaths from whooping-cough included 16 in West Ham, and 14 in Tottenham districts; 4 deaths from diphtheria occurred in Enfield and 2 in Tottenham sub-districts. Three deaths from scarlet fever were returned in West Ham sub-district.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·78 in.; the lowest reading was 29·08 in. on Tuesday afternoon, and the highest 30·15 in. at the end of the week. The mean temperature of the air was 33°·7, and 6°·8 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was considerably below the average on each of the first six days of the week, whereas it showed an excess on Saturday. The direction of the wind was variable, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 12·7 miles per hour, which was 1·4 miles below the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain or melted snow was measured on three days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·17 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 11·1 hours, against 12·6 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.043 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the eastern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1888, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS.

The deaths registered last week in TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS of England and Wales corresponded to an annual rate of 22·2 per 1000 of their aggregate population, which is estimated at *9,398,273 persons in the middle of this year. The deaths registered in each of the last four weeks in the several towns, alphabetically arranged, corresponded to the following annual rates per 1000:—

The 56 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 40 in London, 4 in Manchester, 2 in Liverpool, 2 in Oldham, and 2 in Huddersfield. Small-pox caused 31 deaths in Sheffield, 2 in Oldham, one in Bristol, one in Nottingham, and one in Leeds, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-two other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2830 BIRTHS and 1838 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 173, and the deaths 176, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 24·4, 22·1, and 23·1 in the three preceding weeks, declined again last week to 22·4. During the first six weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 23·1 per 1000, and was 1·3 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878–87.

The 1838 deaths included 15 from measles, 36 from scarlet fever, 40 from diphtheria, 154 from whooping-cough, 12 from enteric fever, 1 from an undefined

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

form of continued fever, 12 from diarrhoea and dysentery, and not one from small-pox, typhus, or cholera; thus, 270 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 31 above the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 21. There were only 8 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last, and not one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The death of a child, aged 2 years, in Fulham was attributed to chicken-pox. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 16 and 18 in the two preceding weeks, declined last week to 15, and were 14 below the corrected average. The deaths from scarlet fever, which had been 42, 29, and 39 in the three previous weeks, were 36 last week, and exceeded the corrected average by 5; 2 belonged to St. George Hanover Square, 2 to Pancras, 4 to Islington, 2 to Hackney, 2 to the City, 2 to Shoreditch, 2 to Whitechapel, 2 to Mile End Old Town, 2 to Wandsworth, and 3 to Camberwell sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 1453 scarlet fever patients (there were also 90 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the ten preceding weeks from 2600 to 1558; 145 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during last week, against 133 and 96 in the two preceding weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had increased in the four previous weeks from 16 to 29, further rose last week to 40, a higher number than in any previous week on record, and exceeded the corrected average by 23; 4 belonged to Paddington, 2 to Kensington, 3 to Pancras, 2 to Islington, 2 to Hackney, 4 to Poplar, 2 to Bermondsey, 3 to Lambeth, 3 to Wandsworth, 3 to Camberwell, and 3 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The 154 fatal cases of whooping-cough showed a decline of 23 from the number in the previous week, but exceeded the corrected average by 47; 5 belonged to Fulham, 10 to Islington, 7 to Hackney, 4 to Clerkenwell, 5 to St. Luke's, 8 to Shoreditch, 16 to Bethnal Green, 7 to Stepney, 10 to Poplar, 15 to Wandsworth, 14 to Camberwell, and 8 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The 12 deaths attributed to diarrhoea and dysentery were 4 below the corrected average.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 13 and 26 in the two preceding weeks, declined again last week to 12, and were 4 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Greenwich sanitary area. The death of a male, aged 32 years, in St. George's Hospital, was indefinitely referred to continued fever. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 154 cases of enteric fever, and 2 of typhus, on Saturday last; 16 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, were admitted during the week.

Eleven deaths were referred to puerperal fever, exceeding the corrected average by 2; 5 occurred in South London.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 591, 534, and 516 in the three preceding weeks, further declined last week to 504, and were 111 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 58 deaths; 54 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 20 from fractures and contusions, 5 from burns and scalds, 2 from drowning, and 21 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 20 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus returned:—7 by accidents from vehicles in the street, 2 by accidents on railway, 1 by fall from loft, 2 by fall down stairs, 1 by fall from bed, 1 by fall while walking, 1 by fall down lift-hole, 2 by fall, the nature of which was not stated, 1 by fall of shot-tub, and 2 by injury from machinery. An inquest was held in each of these 20 cases. Four cases of suicide were registered.

On pages 55-56 will be found Dr. Frankland's report upon the quality of the waters supplied to the Metropolis by the various companies during January. The Thames waters delivered by the five companies drawing their supply from that source, which in December contained, for the winter season, an exceptionally small proportion of organic matter, showed a further improvement in this respect during January; all the samples were clear and bright. The waters, principally derived from the River Lea, distributed by the New River Company, again contained only a minute quantity of organic matter, and the East London Company's supply resembled the best of the Thames waters; both the samples were clear and bright. The solid residue and hardness of the East London Company's water showed a marked increase. The deep-well water supplied by the Kent and Colne Valley Companies contained as usual a very small proportion of organic matter, and the Colne Valley Company's water having been softened with lime was of excellent quality for all domestic purposes. The sample of water supplied by the Tottenham Local Board contained considerably more organic matter than is either usually present in this supply, or than should be found in deep-well water generally.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3692 births and 2361 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 34·8 and 22·3 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 48 deaths from whooping-cough, 12 from diphtheria, and 6 from scarlet fever were registered. Whooping-cough caused 15 deaths in West Ham, and 19 in Edmonton districts; diphtheria, 4 in Enfield and 4 in Walthamstow sub-districts; and scarlet fever, 2 in Hayes and 2 in Barking Town sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·82 in.; the highest reading was 30·15 in. at the beginning, and the lowest 29·26 in. at the end of the week. The mean temperature of the air was 43°·6, and 3°·8 above the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean showed an excess on each of the first six days of the week, whereas it fell below the average on Saturday. The general direction of the wind was Westerly, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 13·7 miles per hour, which was a tenth of a mile below the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on four days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·26 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 1·8 hours, against 5·5 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL has to acknowledge the courtesy of the LONDON WATER COMPANIES who have furnished him with the average daily quantity of Water supplied during the month of JANUARY 1888; according to their returns 155,792,903 gallons or 707,838 cubic metres of water (equal to about as many tuns by measure, tons by weight,) were supplied daily; or 212 gallons (96·3 decalitres), rather less than a ton by weight, to each house, and 27·2 gallons (12·4 decalitres) to each person, against 28·7 gallons during January 1887.

ANALYSIS OF METROPOLITAN WATER SUPPLY DURING JANUARY.

Grove House, Pembroke Square, W.,
11th February, 1888.

SIR, I HAVE to report to you in the following Table the results of the chemical analyses of the waters supplied to the inner, and portions of the outer, circle of the Metropolis during the month of January.

I append, also, the results obtained in the analyses of the waters supplied to Birmingham and Glasgow by their respective Corporations. These analyses were made by Dr. Hill of Birmingham and Dr. Mills of Glasgow.

Taking the average amount of organic impurity contained in a given volume of the Kent Company's water during the nine years ending December 1876 as unity, the proportional amount contained in an equal volume of water supplied by each of the Metropolitan Water Companies and by the Tottenham Local Board of Health, was:—Kent 0·7, New River 0·9, Colne Valley 1·2, Lambeth and East London 2·4, Tottenham 2·6, Grand Junction 2·6, West Middlesex 2·7, Southwark 3·2, Chelsea 3·2.

The Thames water sent out by the Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, and Lambeth Companies, which in December of last year exhibited a very small proportion of organic matter for the winter season, showed a further improvement in this respect during January. All the samples were clear and bright.

The water principally drawn from the river Lea, that distributed by the New River Company again contained only a very minute quantity of organic matter; whilst the East London Company's water supply resembled the best of the Thames waters. Both waters were clear and bright.

It is noticeable that the solid residue and hardness of the East London Company's water were markedly greater than usual.

The deep-well water by the Kent and Colne Valley Companies contained as usual only a very small proportion of organic matter, and the Colne Valley Company, by softening their supply with lime, thereby rendered it also of excellent quality for washing and all other domestic purposes.

The sample of water from the Tottenham Local Board of Health contained considerably more organic matter than is either usually present in this supply or than should be found in deep-well water generally.

Seen through a stratum two feet deep, the waters presented the following appearances:—Kent, Colne Valley, and New River, clear and colourless; Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, Lambeth, East London, and Tottenham, pale yellow and clear.

Dr. Hill, F.I.C., the Medical Officer of Health for Birmingham, reports that the water supplied to that town "maintained its late character for organic purity."

Dr. Mills, F.R.S., of the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College reports that the water supplied to that city from Loch Katrine was "light brown in colour and contained a little suspended matter."

The Registrar General, &c. &c.

I am, &c.

E. FRANKLAND.

* Analysed by Dr. Alfred Hill, F.I.C., Medical Officer of Health and Analyst to the Borough.

† Analysed by Dr. E. J. Mills, F.R.S., of the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College.

All the numbers in columns 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11, relate to 100,000 parts of the waters. The Table is to be read thus:—the Chelsea Company's water, collected on the 24th January at the Horseguards cab-rank, had a temperature of 6°·0 C.; 100,000 lbs. of it contained 30·24 lbs. of solid matter; the organic substances, constituting a portion of this matter, contained ·169 lb. of carbon and ·020 lb. of nitrogen. The above quantity of water also contained no ammonia, and ·277 lb. of nitrogen in the form of nitrates and nitrites, whilst the total amount of combined nitrogen in every form was ·297 lb. The above weight of water also contained 1·9 lbs. of chlorine; and 20·3 lbs. of carbonate of lime, or an equivalent quantity of other hardening or soap-destroying ingredients.

The numbers in the analytical Table can be converted into grains per imperial gallon by multiplying them by 7, and then moving the decimal point one place to the left. The same operation transforms the hardness in the Table into degrees of hardness on Clark's scale.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylums Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 0.048 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the cause of death cannot be certified that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the cause is returned as "not vaccinated."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

TABLE 9.—METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS taken at the ROYAL OBSERVATORY, GREENWICH, during the Week ending Saturday, 11th FEBRUARY, 1888.
[Under the Superintendence of the Astronomer Royal.]

[illegible]

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

correction has been applied to the readings to sea level and 9th P.M. The means of the observations are usually taken at 9th A.M.; noon; 3rd, 6th, and 9th P.M. The means of the readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1885 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean readings of the dry bulb thermometers, combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 3). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced (column 4). The mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-thermometer, Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 26 years ending 1888, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875. In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower" than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from a combination of both representative and extreme values. The symbols employed are:—P, positive; N, negative; w, weak; m, moderate; s, strong; and v, variable.

The numbers in column 20, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the approximate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 30.15 in. at the beginning of the week to 30.03 in. by 8 h. P.M. on the 6th; increased to 30.12 in. by 8 h. P.M. on the 7th; decreased to 29.76 in. by 8 h. P.M. on the 8th; increased to 30.28 in. by 8 h. P.M. on the 9th; and decreased to 29.76 in. by 8 h. P.M. on the 5th.

The highest annual death-rates from measles, measured by last week's mortality, were 1·3 in Wolverhampton, 1·4 in Nottingham, and 2·0 in Plymouth; from scarlet fever, 1·3 in Halifax, 1·5 in Oldham and in Preston, and 1·6 in Birkenhead; from whooping-cough, 1·3 in Brighton, 1·4 in Salford, and 1·5 in London; and from "fever," 1·1 in Nottingham and in Norwich. The 35 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 18 in London, 5 in Liverpool, 2 in Birmingham, 2 in Manchester, 2 in Salford, and 2 in Oldham. Small-pox caused 30 deaths in Sheffield, 2 in Bristol, 2 in Leeds, one in London, one in Nottingham, and one in Manchester, but not one in any of the twenty-two other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2569 BIRTHS and 1689 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 330, and the deaths 218, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 23·1 and 22·4 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 20·6. During the first seven weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 22·7 per 1000, and was 1·5 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

The 1689 deaths included 1 from small-pox, 14 from measles, 30 from scarlet fever, 18 from diphtheria, 122 from whooping-cough, 18 from enteric fever, 8 from

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

diarrhoea and dysentery, and not one from typhus, ill-defined forms of continued fever, or cholera; thus, 211 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 23 below the corrected average weekly number.

One death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 21; the death was of a child aged 2 years at 66, Arbery Road, Bethnal Green, the certificate giving no information as to the vaccination of the deceased. There were only 6 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last, and one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The death of a child, aged 3 years, in the London Hospital, was referred to "varicella, bronchitis." The fatal cases of measles, which had been 18 and 15 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 14, and were 18 below the corrected average. The deaths from scarlet fever, which had been 39 and 36 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 30, but exceeded the corrected average by one; 3 belonged to Kensington, 3 to Marylebone, 3 to Pancras, 3 to Bethnal Green, 2 to Mile End Old Town, 2 to Lambeth, and 3 to Camberwell sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 1395 scarlet fever patients (there were also 75 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the eleven preceding weeks from 2600 to 1453; 104 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during last week, against 133, 96, and 146 in the three preceding weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had increased in the five preceding weeks from 16 to 40, declined last week to 18, but exceeded the corrected average by 4; 12 belonged to South London, including 3 to Wandsworth, 4 to Camberwell, and 3 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The 122 fatal cases of whooping-cough showed a further decline from 177 and 153 in the two preceding weeks, but exceeded the corrected average by 20; 7 belonged to Hammersmith, 6 to Westminster, 10 to Islington, 8 to Hackney, 4 to Clerkenwell, 4 to St. Luke's, 8 to Shoreditch, 5 to Stepney, 12 to Wandsworth, 7 to Camberwell, and 8 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The 8 deaths attributed to diarrhoea and dysentery showed a further decline from recent weekly numbers, and were 7 below the corrected average.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 26 and 12 in the two preceding weeks, rose again last week to 18, and exceeded the corrected average by one; 3 belonged to Pancras, 2 to Hackney, and 3 to Poplar sanitary areas. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 143 cases of enteric fever, and 2 of typhus, on Saturday last; 13 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had declined in the four preceding weeks from 591 to 504, further fell last week to 487, and were 57 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 39 deaths; 37 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 16 from fractures and contusions, 4 from burns and scalds, and 11 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 16 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus returned:—5 by accidents from vehicles in the street, 1 by fall from window, 1 by fall from bed, 1 by fall from height, 1 by fall in yard, 1 by fall in room, 1 by fall in street, 2 by fall into ship's hold, 1 by fall at birth, and 1 by fall and 1 by blow, the nature of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 16 cases. Two cases of suicide were registered, the corrected average being 7.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3324 births and 2147 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 31·4 and 20·3 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 46 deaths from whooping-cough, and 8 from diphtheria were registered. Whooping-cough caused 16 deaths in West Ham, and 13 in Edmonton districts. The fatal cases of diphtheria included 3 in Tottenham and 2 in West Ham sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·63 in.; the lowest reading was 29·26 in. at the beginning of the week, and the highest 29·94 in. on Thursday evening. The mean temperature of the air was 34°·1, and 4°·8 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was below the average throughout the week, the coldest day being Friday, when the deficiency was 6°·1. The general direction of the wind was northerly, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 15·2 miles per hour, which was 2·6 above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain or melted snow was measured on four days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·38 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 5·6 hours, against 9·3 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean value of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of the temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the twenty years ending 1888, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are:—P. positive; N. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. variable.

The numbers in column 29 derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer increased from 29.26 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.61 in. by 3h. P.M. on the 13th; decreased to 29.39 in. by 9h. A.M. on the 14th; increased to 29.44 in. by 3h. P.M. on the 16th; and decreased to 29.36 in. by the end of the week.

The 40 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 30 in London, 3 in Liverpool, 2 in Salford, and 2 in Preston. Small-pox caused 20 deaths in Sheffield, 5 in Manchester, one in Greater London, one in Liverpool, one in Oldham, one in Blackburn, and one in Leeds, but not one in any of the twenty-one other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2473 BIRTHS and 1772 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 449, and the deaths 69, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 23·1, 22·4, and 20·6 in the three preceding weeks, rose again last week to 21·6. During the first eight weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 22·6 per 1000, and was 1·4 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878–87.

The 1772 deaths included 18 from measles, 32 from scarlet fever, 30 from diphtheria, 127 from whooping-cough, 16 from enteric fever, 8 from diarrhœa and dysentery, 1 from choleraic diarrhœa, and not one from small-pox, typhus, or ill-defined forms of continued fever; thus, 232 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 14 above the corrected average weekly number.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

No death from small-pox belonging to Registration London was registered, the corrected average being 16. There were only 6 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last, and one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 18, 15, and 14 in the three preceding weeks, rose again last week to 18, but were 17 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Mile End Old Town, and 4 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The deaths from scarlet fever, which had been 39, 36, and 30 in the three preceding weeks, were last week 32, and exceeded the corrected average by one; 2 belonged to Hammersmith, 3 to Marylebone, 2 to Pancras, 2 to Bethnal Green, 2 to Whitechapel, 5 to Wandsworth, and 3 to Camberwell sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 1308 scarlet fever patients (there were also 69 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the twelve preceding weeks from 2600 to 1395; 93 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during last week, against 96, 146, and 105 in the three preceding weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had been 40 and 18 in the two previous weeks, rose again last week to 30, and exceeded the corrected average by 17; 2 belonged to Paddington, 5 to Islington, 2 (at 8, De Beauvoir Square) to Hackney, 2 to Rotherhithe, 2 to Lambeth, 3 to Greenwich, and 6 (including 3 at 2, Hindsley Place, Forest Hill) to Lewisham sanitary areas. The 127 fatal cases of whooping-cough showed an increase of 5 upon the number in the previous week, and exceeded the corrected average by 36; 13 belonged to Islington, 6 to Hackney, 6 to Shoreditch, 12 to Bethnal Green, 5 to Stepney, 5 to Mile End Old Town, 5 to Newington, 12 to Lambeth, 6 to Wandsworth, and 9 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The 8 deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery corresponded with the number in the previous week, and were 7 below the corrected average. The death of an infant, aged 4 months, in Soho, was referred to choleraic diarrhœa.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 26, 12, and 18 in the preceding three weeks, were last week 16, and exceeded the corrected average by 2; 2 belonged to Hackney, 2 to Camberwell, and 2 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 137 cases of enteric fever, and 1 of typhus, on Saturday last; 13 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had declined in the five preceding weeks from 591 to 487, further fell last week to 478, and were 23 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 62 deaths; 53 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 22 from fractures and contusions, 12 from burns and scalds, 2 from drowning, 2 from poison, and 10 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 22 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus returned:—4 by accidents from vehicles in the streets, 4 by accidents on railways, 1 by fall down stairs, 3 by fall from scaffold or staging, 1 by fall from paddle-box, 4 by falls, the nature of which was not stated, 1 by blow from snow-ball, 1 by blow from steam-engine at gasworks, 1 by injury from machinery, 1 by injury on ship, and 1 by injury from lifting heavy weight. An inquest was held in each of these 22 cases. Nine cases of suicide were registered.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3247 births and 2225 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 30·6 and 21·0 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 34 deaths from whooping-cough, 9 from diphtheria, and one from small-pox were registered. Whooping-cough caused 8 deaths in Tottenham sub-district, and 12 in the district of West Ham. Six fatal cases of diphtheria were returned in Walthamstow, and 2 in Enfield sub-districts; 3 of measles in Willesden, and 2 of "fever" in West Ham sub-districts. The death from small-pox occurred in West Ham sub-district.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·63 in.; the lowest reading was 29·23 in. on Sunday evening, and the highest 29·89 in. at the end of the week. The mean temperature of the air was 29°·8, and 9°·8 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was considerably below the average throughout the week; the coldest day was Friday, when the mean fell to 25°·5, and showed a deficiency of 14°·5. The general direction of the wind was N.E., and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 19·0 miles per hour, which was 6·4 miles above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain or melted snow was measured on five days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·21 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 6·0 hours, against 11·4 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.044 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

GENERAL REMARKS.

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1888 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean readings of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygrometrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1888, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are: -P. positive; N. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. variable.

The numbers in column 29, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 29.36 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.28 in. by 10h. P.M. on the 19th; increased to 29.85 in. by 9h. P.M. on the 23rd; decreased to 29.76 in.

The highest annual death-rates from measles, measured by last week's mortality, were 1·3 in Wolverhampton, and 4·0 in Plymouth; from scarlet fever, 1·0 in Cardiff and 2·6 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 1·1 in London, in Norwich, and in Leicester, 2·3 in Bolton, and 2·6 in Wolverhampton; and from "fever," 1·4 in Cardiff, and 1·6 in Derby and in Nottingham. The 37 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 24 in London, 5 in Manchester, and 2 in Sheffield. Small-pox caused 21 deaths in Sheffield, one in Leeds, one in Manchester, one in Nottingham, and one in Bristol, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-two other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2778 BIRTHS and 1794 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 100, and the deaths 36, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 20·6 and 21·6 in the two preceding weeks, further rose last week to 21·9. During the first nine weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 22·5 per 1000, and was 1·3 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878–87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonston, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Miteham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1794 deaths included 15 from measles, 27 from scarlet fever, 24 from diphtheria, 94 from whooping-cough, 15 from enteric fever, 10 from diarrhœa and dysentery, and not one from small-pox, typhus, ill-defined forms of continued fever, or cholera; thus, 185 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 34 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 21. There were 13 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last, and one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 14 and 18 in the two preceding weeks, declined again last week to 15, and were 22 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Islington, and 3 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The deaths from scarlet fever, which had ranged in the four preceding weeks between 39 and 30, further declined last week to 27, but exceeded the corrected average by one; 4 belonged to Islington, 3 to Hackney, 4 to Bethnal Green (including 2 admitted to hospital from 3, Mape Street) sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 1295 scarlet fever patients (there were also 68 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the thirteen preceding weeks from 2600 to 1309; 84 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during last week, against 146, 105, and 93 in the three preceding weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had been 40, 18, and 30 in the three previous weeks, were last week 24, and exceeded the corrected average by 11; 2 belonged to Paddington, 3 to Clerkenwell, 2 to Poplar, 2 to Wandsworth, 3 to Camberwell, and 3 to Lewisham sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had ranged in the nine preceding weeks between 177 and 120, further declined last week to 94, but exceeded the corrected average by 2; 6 belonged to Hammersmith, 7 to Pancras, 7 to Islington, 11 to Wandsworth, 8 to Greenwich, and 5 to Lewisham sanitary areas. The 10 deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery showed an increase of 2 upon the low number in each of the two previous weeks, but were 5 below the corrected average.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 18 and 16 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 15, but exceeded the corrected average by 3; 2 belonged to Chelsea, and 2 to Poplar sanitary areas. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 140 cases of enteric fever, and not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 17 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had declined in the six preceding weeks from 591 to 478, were last week 488, and were 9 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 65 deaths; 60 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 20 from fractures and contusions, 18 from burns and scalds, 4 from drowning, and 12 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 20 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:— 3 by accidents on railways, 3 by fall from scaffold, 1 by fall from height, 2 by fall in street, 3 by fall down stairs or steps, 3 by fall in room, 2 by fall, the nature of which was not stated, 2 by injury from machinery, and 1 by fall of heavy substance. An inquest was held in each of these 20 cases. Five cases of suicide were registered.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 2895 births and 1905 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 27·3 and 18·0 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 43 deaths from whooping-cough, 9 from diphtheria, and 3 from "fever" were registered. Whooping-cough caused 9 deaths in Tottenham, 6 in West Ham, and 5 in Croydon sub-districts. Three fatal cases of diphtheria occurred in Enfield and 3 in Walthamstow sub-districts; and the 3 deaths from "fever" in West Ham sub-district.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 30·02 in.; the highest reading was 30·23 in. on Tuesday at noon, and the lowest 29·78 in. on Friday evening. The mean temperature of the air was 31°·5, and 8°·8 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was considerably below the average throughout the week; the coldest day was Wednesday, when the mean fell to 29°·5, and showed a deficiency of 10°·8. The general direction of the wind was North-easterly, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 15·6 miles per hour, which was 2·0 miles above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain or melted snow was measured on two days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·02 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 10·4 hours, against 17·2 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.048 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ These cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

GENERAL REMARKS.

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1885 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1885, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

The reading of the columns 9 and 25 will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cable Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are: +, P. positive; -, P. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. very.

The numbers in column 29 derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The result of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The mean of the barometric pressure increased from 29.89 in. at the beginning of the week to 30.23 in. by noon on the 28th of February, and decreased to 29.05 in. by noon on the 1st of March; by noon on the 28th of February the mean of the barometer was 29.89 in. at the beginning of the week to 30.23 in.

The highest annual death-rates from measles, measured by last week's mortality, were 0·7 in Bradford, and 6·0 in Plymouth; from scarlet fever, 1·1 in Oldham, and 1·8 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 1·2 in London, 1·8 in Salford and in Leicester, 1·9 in Wolverhampton, and 2·2 in Norwich; and from "fever," 1·1 in Leicester, in Norwich, and in Derby. The 45 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 24 in London, 3 in Birmingham, 3 in Manchester, and 2 each in Leicester, Liverpool, Bradford, and Leeds. Small-pox caused 29 deaths in Sheffield, 3 in Oldham, 2 in Manchester, 2 in Blackburn, and 2 in London, but not one in any of the twenty-three other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2583 BIRTHS and 1886 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 388, and the deaths 3, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 20·6, 21·6, and 21·9 per 1000 in the three preceding weeks, further rose last week to 23·0. During the first ten weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 22·6 per 1000, and was 1·2 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1886 deaths included 2 from small-pox, 21 from measles, 29 from scarlet fever, 24 from diphtheria, 101 from whooping-cough, 20 from enteric fever, 17 from diarrhoea and dysentery, and not one from typhus, ill-defined forms of continued fever, or cholera; thus, 214 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 5 below the corrected average weekly number.

Two deaths from small-pox were registered, the corrected average being 18; one occurred in the Hospital Ship off Dartford and belonged to Greenwich sanitary area, and the other occurred in a private house at Camberwell. There were 14 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospital Ships on Saturday last, and one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 18 and 15 in the two preceding weeks, rose last week to 21, but were 21 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Bethnal Green sanitary area. The deaths from scarlet fever, which had been 32 and 27 in the two preceding weeks, were last week 29, and exceeded the corrected average by 4; 3 belonged to Kensington, 3 to Pancras, 2 to Islington, 2 to Hackney, 2 to Bethnal Green, 2 to Newington, 2 to Camberwell, and 2 to Greenwich sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 1201 scarlet fever patients (there were also 79 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the fourteen preceding weeks from 2600 to 1295; 100 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during last week, against numbers declining in the four preceding weeks from 146 to 84. The 24 deaths from diphtheria corresponded with the number in the previous week, but were double the corrected average; 2 belonged to Hammersmith, 2 to Islington, 4 to Wandsworth, 3 to Greenwich, and 4 to Lewisham sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had declined in the five preceding weeks from 177 to 94, rose again last week to 101 and exceeded the corrected average by 11; 6 belonged to Chelsea, 11 to Islington, 7 to Bethnal Green, 6 to Poplar, 7 to Lambeth, 8 to Wandsworth, and 6 to Greenwich sanitary areas. The 17 deaths attributed to diarrhoea and dysentery showed a further increase upon recent weekly numbers, and exceeded the corrected average by 4; 11 were of children aged under five years, and 4 of persons aged upwards of 60 years.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 18, 16, and 15 in the three preceding weeks, rose last week to 20, and exceeded the corrected average by 6; 2 belonged to Hammersmith, 2 to Marylebone, 2 to Islington, and 2 to Wandsworth sanitary areas. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 142 cases of enteric fever, and not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 21 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 487, 478, and 488 in the three preceding weeks, were last week 490, and were 32 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 51 deaths; 44 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 15 from fractures and contusions, 7 from burns and scalds, 3 from drowning, 2 (including the death of an electrotyper from mercurial poison caused by his occupation) from poison, and 17 from suffocation, including 14 of infants, and one of a patient in the Homœopathic Hospital from chloroform. The 15 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus returned:— 1 by accident from vehicle in the street; 3 by accidents on railway; 2 by fall down stairs; 1 by fall from window; 1 by fall in street; 1 by fall in house; 1 by fall through trapdoor; 1 by blow from winch-handle; 1 by fall or blow; 3 by fractures, the cause of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these cases, except two of the last-mentioned, which were certified by registered medical practitioners. Six cases of suicide were registered.

On pages 97-98 will be found Dr. Frankland's report upon the quality of the waters supplied to the Metropolis by the various companies during February. From which it appears that the Thames waters delivered by the five companies drawing their supply from that source, contained, for the season, an unusually small proportion of organic impurity. The New River Company's water, principally derived from the River Lea, also contained a very small proportion of organic matter, while the quality of the water supplied by the East London Company was again considerably inferior to that of the other river waters. The quality of the deep-well water supplied by the Kent and Colne Valley Companies, and by the Tottenham Local Board showed scarcely any variation from that of the samples examined in the previous month.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3384 births and 2385 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 31·9 and 22·5 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 38 deaths from whooping-cough were registered, including 11 in Tottenham, and 11 in West Ham districts. Two more deaths from diphtheria occurred in Enfield, and 2 from "fever" in West Ham sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·63 in.; the highest reading was 29·92 in. on Tuesday evening, and the lowest 29·13 in. on Saturday morning. The mean temperature of the air was 42°·6, and 2°·0 above the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was below the average on Sunday and Monday, but showed an excess on each of the other days of the week. The general direction of the wind was N.W. and S.W., and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 18·8 miles per hour, which was 4·9 above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on two days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·30 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 6·5 hours, against 9·0 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL has to acknowledge the courtesy of the LONDON WATER COMPANIES who have furnished him with the average daily quantity of Water supplied during the month of FEBRUARY 1888; according to their returns 154,025,254 gallons or 699,807 cubic metres of water (equal to about as many tuns by measure, tons by weight,) were supplied daily; or 210 gallons (95·4 decalitres), rather less than a ton by weight, to each house, and 26·9 gallons (12·2 decalitres) to each person, against 27·6 gallons during February 1887.

ANALYSIS OF METROPOLITAN WATER SUPPLY DURING FEBRUARY.

Grove House, Pembroke Square, W.,
9th March, 1888.

SIR, I HAVE to report to you in the following Table the results of the chemical analyses of the waters supplied to the inner, and portions of the outer, circle of the Metropolis during the month of February.

I append, also, the results obtained in the analyses of the waters supplied to Birmingham and Glasgow by their respective Corporations. These analyses were made by Dr. Hill of Birmingham and Dr. Mills of Glasgow.

Taking the average amount of organic impurity contained in a given volume of the Kent Company's water during the nine years ending December 1876 as unity, the proportional amount contained in an equal volume of water supplied by each of the Metropolitan Water Companies and by the Tottenham Local Board of Health, was:—Kent 0·6, Colne Valley 1·1, New River 1·2, Tottenham 1·6, Chelsea 2·7, Lambeth 2·9, Southwark 3·0, East London 3·2, Grand Junction 3·2, West Middlesex 3·5.

The action of frost in hardening the surface of the soil enables melting snow to reach rivers and streams in a much purer condition than when the land is soft and spongy, hence the Thames water sent out by the Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, and Lambeth Companies contained for river water only a very moderate proportion of organic matter the amount being especially small for this period of the year. All the samples were clear and bright.

The water principally derived from the river Lea, that distributed by the New River Company contained as for many months past, only a very small proportion of organic matter; whilst the East London Company's supply resembled, as regards organic matter, the Thames-derived waters. The total solid residue, as well as the hardness of the East London Company's sample were, as in the preceding month, noticeably higher than those of the other river waters. Both waters were clear and bright.

The deep-well water pumped by the Kent and Colne Valley Companies contained as usual only a very small proportion of organic matter, and the Colne Valley Company, by softening their supply with lime, before delivery thereby rendered it also of excellent quality for washing and all other domestic purposes.

The sample of water from the Tottenham Local Board of Health, although containing only a small proportion of organic matter, was very slightly turbid and moving organisms were visible amongst the suspended matter under the microscope.

Seen through a stratum two feet deep, the waters presented the following appearances:—Kent, Colne Valley, clear and colourless; New River, clear and nearly colourless; Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, Lambeth, and East London, clear and pale yellow; Tottenham, very slightly turbid and nearly colourless.

Dr. Hill, F.I.C., the Medical Officer of Health for Birmingham, reports that the water supplied to that town "compared most favourably with any of the samples taken for some time past."

Dr. Mills, F.R.S., of the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College reports that the water supplied to that city from Loch Katrine was "light brown in colour and contained a little suspended matter."

I am, &c.

The Registrar General, &c. &c.

E. FRANKLAND.

* Analysed by Dr. Alfred Hill, F.I.C., Medical Officer of Health and Analyst to the Borough.

† Analysed by Dr. E. J. Mills, F.R.S., of Anderson's College, Glasgow.

All the numbers in columns 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11, relate to 100,000 parts of the waters. The Table is to be read thus:—the Chelsea Company's water, collected on the 25th February at the Horseguards cab-rank, had a temperature of 4°.4 C.; 100,000 lbs. of it contained 28.50 lbs. of solid matter; the organic substances, constituting a portion of this matter, contained .130 lb. of carbon and .029 lb. of nitrogen. The above quantity of water also contained no ammonia, and .235 lb. of nitrogen in the form of nitrates and nitrites, whilst the total amount of combined nitrogen in every form was .264 lb. The above weight of water also contained 1.9 lbs. of chlorine; and 19.7 lbs. of carbonate of lime, or an equivalent quantity of other hardening or soap-destroying ingredients.

The numbers in the analytical Table can be converted into grains per imperial gallon by multiplying them by 7, and then moving the decimal point one place to the left. The same operation transforms the hardness in the Table into degrees of hardness on Clark's scale.

TABLE 4. LONDON.—DEATHS Registered at several groups of AGES from different CAUSES in the Tenth Week of the Year 1888.

[illegible]

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.044 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ These cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the death is due to small-pox, it is not certain that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned as "not certified."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations on the hygrometer were taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the corrected readings of the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer are given in the columns 19 and 20. The means of the corrected readings of the barometer are given in the columns 21 and 22. The means of the corrected readings of the thermometer are given in the columns 23 and 24. The means of the corrected readings of the air and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of the temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1888, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are:—P. positive; N. negative; v. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. variable.

The numbers in column 23 derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 29.90 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.72 in. by noon on the 4th; increased to 29.92 in. by 9h. P.M. on the 5th; decreased to 29.13 in. by 4h. A.M. on the 10th; and increased to 29.39 in. by the end of the week.

The highest annual death-rates from measles, measured by last week's mortality, were 0·9 in Nottingham and 6·7 in Plymouth; from scarlet fever, 1·1 in Oldham and 1·3 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 1·3 in Brighton and in Blackburn, 1·6 in Salford, and 2·2 in Norwich; and from "fever," 1·0 in Cardiff and 1·1 in Derby. The 33 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 22 in London and 2 in Manchester. Small-pox caused 18 deaths in Sheffield, 2 in Bristol, 2 in Manchester, and 2 in Huddersfield, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-three other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2629 BIRTHS and 1604 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 281, and the deaths 292, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had increased in the four preceding weeks, from 20·6 to 23·0, declined last week to 19·5, and was lower than in any previous week of this year. During the first eleven weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 22·3 per 1000, and was 1·4 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmondo, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Miteham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1604 deaths included 22 from measles, 25 from scarlet fever, 22 from diphtheria, 92 from whooping-cough, one from typhus, 10 from enteric fever, one from an ill-defined form of continued fever, 10 from diarrhoea and dysentery, and not one from small-pox or cholera; thus, 183 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 47 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 18. There were 17 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last, and not one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 15 and 21 in the two preceding weeks, further rose last week to 22, but were 27 below the corrected average; 8 belonged to Hackney sanitary area. The deaths from scarlet fever, which had been 32, 27, and 29 in the three previous weeks, declined last week to 25, and corresponded with the corrected average; 2 belonged to Clerkenwell, 3 to Stepney, 2 to Newington, 2 to Lambeth, 2 to Wandsworth, and 5 to Camberwell sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 1160 scarlet fever patients (there were also 79 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the fifteen preceding weeks from 2600 to 1201; 94 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during last week, against 84 and 100 in the two preceding weeks. The 22 deaths from diphtheria showed a decline of 2 from the number returned in each of the two previous weeks, but exceeded the average by 8; 2 belonged to Paddington, and 3 to Wandsworth sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had been 127, 94, and 101 in the three preceding weeks, declined last week to 92, but exceeded the corrected average by 3; 4 belonged to Paddington, 5 to Chelsea, 8 to Islington, 6 to Hackney, 4 to Shore-ditch, 4 to Bethnal Green, 4 to Poplar, 4 to Bermondsey, 5 to Lambeth, 4 to Camberwell, and 4 to Lewisham sanitary areas.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 15 and 20 in the two preceding weeks, declined last week to 10, and were 5 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Kensington, and 2 to Hackney sanitary areas. The death referred to typhus was of a child, aged five years, in the Camberwell sanitary area; this death was the subject of an inquest. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 136 cases of enteric fever, and not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 10 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 478, 488, and 490 in the three preceding weeks, declined last week to 458, and were 79 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 59 deaths; 50 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 25 from fractures and contusions, 5 from burns and scalds, 3 from drowning, and 12 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 25 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus returned:—8 by accident from horses or vehicles in the street; 2 by accident on railway; 1 by kick of horse; 4 by fall down stairs or steps; 1 by fall from ladder; 1 by fall from chair; 1 by fall of brickwork; 3 by fall in street (one intoxicated); 3 by fall, and 1 by fracture, the cause of which was not stated.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3434 births and 2031 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 32·4 and 19·2 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 30 deaths from whooping-cough, 7 from scarlet fever, 6 from diphtheria, and 6 from measles, were registered. The deaths from whooping-cough included 5 in Tottenham and 4 in West Ham sub-districts; 2 fatal cases of diphtheria occurred in Hendon and 2 in West Ham sub-districts, and 2 of scarlet fever in Willesden sub-district.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·21 in.; the lowest reading was 28·60 in. on Sunday afternoon, and the highest 29·88 in. at the end of the week. The mean temperature of the air was 37°·2, and 3°·8 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean showed an excess on Sunday, Wednesday, and Thursday, whereas it was considerably below the average on each of the other days of the week. The direction of the wind was variable, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 17·5 miles per hour, which was 4·2 miles above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on every day of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·95 in. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 10·8 hours, against 10·1 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

EAST LONDON WATER COMPANY.—It having appeared that a sentence in the last Weekly Return, relating to Dr. Frankland's report upon the Metropolitan water supply in February, was so expressed as to be liable to misinterpretation, it is desirable to explain that the remark there made as to the comparative inferiority of the East London Company's water had no reference to organic impurity, but to the amount of total solid residue and the degree of hardness.

The height of the column of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1888 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean readings of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the maximum (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1888, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are: +, P. positive; N. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. variable.

The numbers in column 29, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 29.30 in. at the beginning of the week to 28.60 in. by 9h. P.M. on the 17th, increased to 29.21 in. by noon on the 18th, and decreased to 28.94 in. by 9h. P.M. on the 19th.

TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS.

The deaths registered last week in TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS of England and Wales corresponded to an annual rate of 21·1 per 1000 of their aggregate population, which is estimated at *9,398,273 persons in the middle of this year. The deaths registered in each of the last four weeks in the several towns, alphabetically arranged, corresponded to the following annual rates per 1000:—

The highest annual death-rates from measles, measured by last week's mortality, were 0·9 in Bradford and 6·7 in Plymouth; from scarlet fever, 0·8 in Oldham and 1·1 in Huddersfield; from whooping-cough, 1·0 in London and 1·3 in Wolverhampton; and from "fever," 0·5 in Nottingham and 1·1 in Leicester. The 30 deaths from diphtheria in the twenty-eight towns included 17 in London, 2 in Norwich, 2 in Birmingham, and 2 in Oldham. Small-pox caused 17 deaths in Sheffield, 2 in Blackburn, 2 in Hull, one in Bristol, one in Nottingham, one in Manchester, and one in Sunderland, but not one in London or in any of the twenty other large provincial towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2522 BIRTHS and 1655 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 341, and the deaths 273, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 23·0 and 19·5 in the two preceding weeks, rose again last week to 20·2. During the first twelve weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 22·1 per 1000, and was 1·6 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonston, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1655 deaths included 18 from measles, 24 from scarlet fever, 17 from diphtheria, 80 from whooping-cough, one from typhus, 10 from enteric fever, 6 from diarrhoea and dysentery, and not one from small-pox, ill-defined forms of continued fever, or cholera; thus, 156 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 83 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 17. There were 15 small-pox patients under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last, and not one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 15, 21, and 22 in the three preceding weeks, declined again last week to 18, and were 30 below the corrected average. The deaths from scarlet fever also showed a decline, from 29 and 25 in the two previous weeks, to 24, which were 2 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Marylebone, 2 to Hackney, 2 to Mile End Old Town, 3 to Poplar, 3 to Bermondsey, 2 to Camberwell, and 2 to Greenwich sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 1107 scarlet fever patients (there were also 80 in the London Fever Hospital), against numbers declining in the sixteen preceding weeks from 2600 to 1160; 77 cases were admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals during the week, against 100 and 94 in the two preceding weeks. The 17 deaths from diphtheria showed a further decline from recent weekly numbers, but were 3 above the corrected average; 2 belonged to Pancras, 3 to Hackney, 2 to Lambeth, and 2 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough, which had declined in the preceding seven weeks from 177 to 92, further fell last week to 80, and were 19 below the corrected average; 7 belonged to Pancras, 5 to Islington, 7 to Bethnal Green, 7 to Poplar, 8 to Lambeth, and 12 to Wandsworth, sanitary areas. The 6 deaths attributed to diarrhoea were fewer than in any recent week, and 9 below the corrected average.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 20 and 10 in the two preceding weeks, were again 10 last week, and were 7 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Paddington sanitary area. The fatal case of typhus was of a marine store dealer's assistant, aged 20 years, at 275, Tabard Street, St. George Southwark sanitary area. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 133 cases of enteric fever, and not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 13 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 490 and 459 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 457, and were 78 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 64 deaths; 60 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 28 from fractures and contusions, 8 from burns and scalds, 3 from drowning, and 18 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 28 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—3 by accident from vehicles in the street; 4 by accident on railway; 3 by fall into area; 2 by fall from window; 5 by fall down steps or stairs; 2 by fall from scaffold or staging; 1 by fall from height; 2 by fall in room; 2 by fall in playground or street; 1 by fall and 3 by fracture, the causes of which were not stated. An inquest was held in each of the 28 cases. Four cases of suicide were registered, and were 3 below the corrected average.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3320 births and 2064 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 31·3 and 19·5 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 23 deaths from whooping-cough, 8 from diphtheria, and 6 from "fever," were registered. The deaths from whooping-cough included 9 in Edmonton and 9 in West Ham registration districts. Two deaths from "fever" were returned in Willesden and 2 in West Ham sub-districts; and 2 from diphtheria in Enfield, and 2 in Walthamstow sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·68 in.; the highest reading was 30·07 in. on Wednesday evening, and the lowest 29·06 in. at the end of the week. The mean temperature of the air was 34°·7, and 7°·0 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was considerably below the average throughout the week, the deficiency of temperature showing a decline from day to day. The general direction of the wind was N.N.E., and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 17·3 miles per hour, which was 4·5 miles above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on five days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·66 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 11·3 hours, against 3·1 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1873-82, raised by 9·046 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."
